ORCID is an open, non-profit, community-driven organization that provides a unique and persistent identifier to researchers, connecting them with their activities through integration in key research workflows.

Through linkages with other systems, ORCID improves discoverability and reduces repetitive data entry. Researchers control the privacy of the information displayed in their ORCID record, and determine what, how and with whom information is shared.